

At Park place apartments there is Wi-Fi all across the building and a separate password for each room. The problem is while in your room or at your desk at the farthest part of the room the connection isn't that good and you end up losing your connection.